

Allergen Information

Are you prepared?

From 13th December 2014, it will be a legal requirement for you to inform your customers of products that contain any of 14 allergens. It will be a criminal offence not to do so.

What must you do?

As an outlet serving food and/or drink you must ensure you can provide information to customers about allergens in all non pre-packed food and drinks sold at your outlet before they make a food or drink purchase.

You will see we have already taken care of the pre-packed products we supply to you. We have the allergens listed on all our packaged products and also our cask and keg labels. To help you, we have also listed all of the allergens of the draught Carlsberg UK products we supply to you in the table overleaf.

What are the 14 allergens you need to provide information on?

- Cereals containing gluten e.g. wheat, rye, barley, oats
- Crustaceans e.g. prawns, lobster, crab
- Molluscs e.g. clams, mussels, oysters
- Eggs
- Fish
- Peanuts
- Other nuts e.g. almonds, hazelnuts, cashews
- Celery and celeriac e.g. stalks, seeds and leaves
- Soya e.g. soya sauce, tofu/beancurd
- Milk
- Mustard
- Sesame seeds
- Sulphur dioxide and sulphites
- Lupin seeds and flour

How can you provide this information?

You need to let customers know that allergen information is available upon request. However, how you inform them is up to you.

Examples include:

- Labels, tickets or stickers;
- Printed menus or lists so that customers don't need to ask;
- Signs, blackboards or POS notifications; and/or
- Verbal information from staff (although written verification of the verbal information must also be available).

Carlsberg's top tips

1. Place a sign next to the bar, or in another place where it can be clearly seen at the point that food or drink is ordered, stating:
Please ask a member of staff before you order your food and drinks if you have any food allergies or intolerances.
2. Use our font stickers on our products' taps as a helpful reminder for your staff of what allergens (if any) our products contain.
3. Why not ask your staff to ask customers if they have any food allergies and would like any help with selecting suitable dishes from your food and drinks menus? If a member of staff is unsure, they must ask somebody who does know.
4. Consider training for staff and yourself to improve your understanding of food allergens and intolerances and ensure that you are compliant with the new legal obligations. Our training partner CPL have created an allergens e-learning course, more details are available at: www.cpl-learning.co.uk.
5. Why not download our table of Carlsberg UK beers and ciders we supply to you from www.carlsbergwedelivermore.co.uk, print it off and put it on your wall next to your bar?

HEINEKEN Allergen Information

The labels on all HEINEKEN produced cider and beer show the allergens in the cider/beer. This is either in the form of a 'contains...' statement (e.g., contains barley) or, where there is an ingredients list, the allergen is highlighted in bold. The table below shows the allergens for all HEINEKEN products.

Please note – this list just contains the allergens which may be present in cider and beer. None of the other allergens listed in EU Regulation 1169/2011 (which includes, fish, eggs, milk etc.) are present in any of the beers or ciders.
